5

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

Video data is compression-coded by an encoder.

A processing state or the processing delay of the encoder is detected. The coding of the encoder is controlled based on the processing state of the coding so that a predetermined frame rate of the video data is maintained.